

DRINK COFFEE

If It Causes Indigestion, a Couple of Stuart's Dypsepsia Tablets Will Promptly Give Relief.

Indigestion caused by coffee is the same as indigestion caused by anything else. If eating food or drinking coffee makes you dypsepsia, all you need is Stuart's Dypsepsia Tablets, because they act with an alkaline effect which is just what the stomach does in health.

"I Surely Do Enjoy My Coffee! I'm Not Afraid to Drink It, Either, for I have a Box of Stuart's Dypsepsia Tablets."

Stuart's Dypsepsia Tablets mix with the food you eat. The stomach by its peristaltic action churns and moves the food around the stomach walls and the powerful ingredients in these tablets instantly begin digesting the food as they are forced through it and around it.

The use of one of these tablets after meals will in a very short time correct the faults of digestion and you will enjoy your coffee and food without the old time distress of indigestion.

Every drug store carries Stuart's Dypsepsia Tablets. Price 50 cents.

ACCUSE BLANTON OF USING PROFANITY

Cong. King Suggests Texan Retire to Cloakroom to "Use That Kind of Language."

Congressman Blanton's hatred of the Government clerk in Washington reached such a heat Wednesday afternoon on the floor of the House that he resorted to language which members declared to be profane and in violation of the rules of the House. Blanton was completing a day of denunciation of Government employees and the departments which permit them to hold their jobs in Washington, when he concluded as follows: "The gentleman from Illinois (Mr. Mann), one of the most distinguished statesmen this Congress has ever had, admitted that they are so thick—that messengers are so thick down here in all the departments that they are falling over each other. The gentleman from Iowa (Mr. Haugen), the chairman of this committee, admitted in his speech that there are too many.

40,000 Useless Clerks. "The gentleman from Illinois (Mr. Madden), said that there are 40,000 useless clerks too many here in the city of Washington." Mr. Madden interrupted Mr. Blanton to say, "And I repeat it." "And he repeats it," roared Blanton. "Then, my God Almighty, if there are 40,000 of them too many, why not get rid of them?" Mr. King, of Illinois, made the point of order that "the gentleman from Texas is using profane language on the floor of the House contrary to the rules of the House. He is the last man on earth who ought to call on him."

Mr. Blanton denied that he was using profane language and contented that "What I said was used earnestly and reverently."

"It is getting to be a regular practice on the part of the gentleman," declared Mr. King. "In every one of his speeches he uses profane language."

"Mr. Chairman, I ask that the gentleman's words, 'God Almighty,' be taken down."

The chairman instructed the reporter to record the words.

Mr. King suggested to Mr. Blanton that he "go to the cloak room when he wishes to use that kind of language."

When Blanton demanded a ruling from the chairman on Mr. King's point of order, the point of order was withdrawn. The chair ruled, however, that the language of Blanton would not constitute profanity, but no ruling was made as to whether or not it was unparliamentary.

This ruling did not deter Blanton from continuing:

"Gentlemen and colleagues," he said, "in the frame of mind which I find myself just now I cannot do otherwise than to exclaim, in the words of a very common west Texas expression, 'Well I'll be damned!'"

"I am here backing up what the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. Madden) says when he states that there are 40,000 too many employees in the departments here in Washington, and we are trying to send them home and save millions of dollars for the people."

"Yet we are to be hamstringed now by another gentleman from Illinois (Mr. King), who is seeking to undo and prevent what Mr. Madden and I are trying to do in behalf of all the people of the country."

Doctors are warning the public that simple colds and mild cases of influenza often lead to pneumonia and other serious complications. They say that every cold should receive immediate attention and that the first step in the treatment is to make sure that the liver is active. For this purpose Calotabs, the perfected, nausealess, calomel tablets, are the surest, best and most agreeable laxative.

One Calotab at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all, no salts, no nausea, and no upsetting of the digestion and appetite. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified and refreshed and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.

For your protection, Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. All druggists recommend and guarantee Calotabs and are authorized to refund the price if you are not delighted with them.

Little Friends of the Liver

The liver is the regulator of health. If the liver is active and well, good health and happiness prevail; but once you allow your liver to get sluggish and sluggish, life becomes a misery. Dypsepsia, indigestion, biliousness, constipation, headache and melancholy are just a few of the results of a sluggish liver, resulting in lack of energy, loss of memory and ill health; but remember Carter's Little Liver Pills touch the liver and correct its liver life.
